A CONGRESS OF DOCTORS

Fifth Triennial Session to Open in This City Tomorrow.

Fully Eight Hundred Delegates Expected to Attend the Constituent Societies—Many Papers of Interest to Physicians and Surgeons to Be Discussed—To Last for Three Days.

The fifth triennial sessions of the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons will begin tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at the Lafayette Square Opera House and be continued with daily morning and afternoon sessions for three days. The congress is composed of the following constituent societies, which will hold meetings at the places named: Ophthalmological Society, ladies' parlor No. 2, the Arlington; Otolaryngological Society, ladies' parlor No. 3, the Arlington; Neurological Association, the Normandie; Gynecological Society, lecture hall, Columbian University, corner Fifteenth and H streets northwest; Dermatological Association, banquet hall, the Gordon; Laryngological Association, parlors F and G, the Arlington; Surgical Association, banquet hall, the Columbia University; Climatological Association, banquet hall, the Arlington; Association of American Physicians, Cosmos Club; Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, the Shoreham; Orthopedic Association, ladies' parlor No. 1, the Arlington; Physiological Society, anatomical hall, Columbian Medical College, 1225 H Street; Association of American Anatomists, ladies' parlor, the Normandie; Pediatric Society, St. John's Parish Hall, Sixteenth and H streets.

The sessions of the Congress are open to the profession. The meetings of the individual component societies will be held in the mornings and the papers read on these occasions will be of high interest to the medical world at large, as they will treat of subjects of moment and be read by the most prominent members of the profession and eminent scientists.

The Congress will be opened by Secretary W. H. Carmalt, M. D., who in the absence of its president, Dr. Henry P. Bowditch, who is detained by sickness, will make the opening address. At the general session of the Congress tomorrow afternoon the subject will be "Bacteriology in Health and Disease," and the following papers will be read and discussed: "Adaptation of Pathogenic Bacteria to Different Species of Animals," by Prof. Theobald Smith, of Boston, Mass.; "The Physiological Reactions of the Body in Its Defense Against Bacteria and their Toxic Products," by Dr. Samuel J. Mettzer, of New York City; "Flaegella and Serum Reactions," by Prof. Harold C. Ernst, of Boston, Mass.; "Relation of Bacteriology to Clinical Medicine," by Dr. Richard C. Cabot, of Boston, Mass.; "Bacterio-Therapeutics With Especial Reference to Tuberculosis," by Dr. Edward R. Baldwin, of Saratoga, N. Y.; "The Actiology of Malarial Fevers," by Prof. William S. Thayer, of Baltimore; "Bacteriology of Dentistry," by Prof. Simon Fleischer, of Philadelphia.

The Physiological Society will give a smoker to the visiting members this evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Hotel Wellington.

The Board of Management of the Cosmos Club has issued cards inviting the members of the Congress to "An informal smoker to be given at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the club rooms."

The Washington Academy of Sciences will hold a complimentary meeting to the Congress tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the lecture hall of the Columbian University, at which the following programme will be presented: "The Application of the Microscope," by Frederick E. Ives, of Philadelphia; "The Application of the Microscope," by E. Francis Jenkins; "Color Photography and Color Printing," by N. H. Barton.

The following are the officers of the congress: President, Henry P. Bowditch, M. D.; vice-president, ex-officio, presidents of constituent societies; chairman of executive committee, Landon Carter Gray, M. D., New York City; treasurer, Newton M. Shaffer, M. D., New York City; secretary, William H. Carmalt, M. D., New Haven, Conn.

The committee of arrangements is composed of: A. R. Shands, M. D., chairman, Washington, D. C.; Dr. S. O. Richey, Dr. F. B. Loring, Dr. Irving C. Rosse, Dr. Henry D. Fry, Dr. T. C. Gilchrist, Dr. T. M. Murray, Dr. J. Ford Thompson, Dr. W. W. Johnston, Dr. Charles F. Bevan, Dr. W. H. Howell, Dr. D. S. Lamb, and Dr. S. S. Adams.

Executive committee: Dr. Landon Carter Gray, New York City; Dr. Hugh T. Patrick, alternate, Chicago, representing the neurological Association; Dr. John D. FOR WELL PEOPLE.

An Easy Way to Keep Well. It is easy to keep well if we would only observe each day a few simple rules of health.

The all important thing is to keep the stomach right and active. This is not necessary to diet or to follow a set rule or bill of fare. Such pampering simply makes a capricious appetite and a feeling that certain favorite articles of food must be avoided.

Prof. Wiechold gives pretty good advice on this subject, he says: "I am sixty-eight years old and have never had a serious illness, and at the same time my life has been largely an indoor one, but I early discovered that the way to keep healthy was to keep healthy stomach not by eating bran crackers or dieting of any sort; on the contrary I always eat what my appetite craves, but for the past eight years I have made it a daily practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal and I attribute my robust health for a man of my age to the regular daily use of Stuart's Tablets."

"My physician first advised me to use them because he said they were perfectly harmless and were not a secret patent medicine, but contained only the natural digestives, pepsines and diastase, and after using them a few weeks I have never ceased to thank him for his advice."

"I honestly believe the habit of taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals is the real health habit, because their use brings health to the sick and ailing, and preserves health to the well."

Men and women past fifty years of age need a safe digestive after meals to ensure a perfect digestion and to ward off the medical world at large, as they will treat of subjects of moment and be read by the most prominent members of the profession and eminent scientists.

They are found in every well regulated household from Maine to California, and Great Britain and Australia are rapidly pushing their way into popular favor. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 25 cents and for a week stomach a 50-cent package will often do $50 worth of good.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Morton, daughter of former Vice President Morton and Mr. William Corcoran Bustis, grandchild of the late W. W. Corcoran, of this city, was solemnized at noon today in Grace Church, New York. The bride was given away by her father and attended by the Misses Lena and Helen Morton, her sisters; Miss Rosemond Street and Miss Celestine Bustis, and the Misses Titine Hitchcock and Patsy Carroll, little daughters of Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and Mrs. Royal Phelps Carroll.

The best man was George Peabody Eustis, the brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers were James W. Appleton, Rawlins L. Cottenet, Center Hitchcock, Frederick F. Dauterive, Craig Wadsworth, and J. B. and N. B. Eustis.

The ceremony, which included a full church service, was followed by a wedding breakfast at the Morton mansion, for which 200 cards were sent. The wedding was served at fifty small tables with from six to eight guests at each one. At the bridal table were seated twenty-four guests. In the hall were seated 100 guests. The wedding was a most impressive and beautiful affair.

The floral display was of rare beauty, but the greatest beauty of the day was in the fact that the wedding guests will not be the only persons who may appreciate them. The flowers, although furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Morton, are in reality by the National Plant, Flower, and Fruit Guild of New York. The guild has been informed that it can call for the flowers in the city, and distribute the thousands of blossoms to the wards of the various hospitals in the city. Several cards of appreciation have been sent in performing this charming mission late this afternoon.

The great wedding in June will be that of Miss Kathryn Clark, daughter of Senator Clark of Montana, and Dr. Lewis Rutherford Morris, which will take place in New York City. The wedding will be a large church ceremony is expected. They will go abroad after the wedding and remain away quite a time.

Miss Maud Wetmore will go to Ardley-on-the-Hudson shortly to enjoy the golf season which opens next week.

General and Mrs. Warren, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mrs. J. Kelson.

Mrs. Paddelford will be at home tomorrow for the last time this season.

Senator Foraker has taken a cottage for the summer at Spring Lake, N. J.

Mrs. Florence Hess, of this city, and Mr. Robert P. Fitch, of Charlottesville, Va., were married on Saturday at noon. They are now visiting the parents of Mr. Fitch at Charlottesville.

CHURCHMEN AND LABOR.

Business Session Begins at Trinity Episcopal Hall.

The Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor began its business sessions this morning at 10 o'clock at Trinity Episcopal Hall, C and Third Streets northwest. This society has been formed for the purpose that the clergy and laity of the church may become personally interested in the social questions now being agitated, inform themselves of the situation of the present, and be prepared to act as the necessities of the time may demand. A great number of members and friends of the society were present and followed with deep interest the various questions discussed. The programme which was presented at this morning's session was as follows: Opening service and address, Rt. Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee; "Needs of the Motormen," Frank Morrison, Secretary American Federation of Labor; discussion from the floor; "Department Store," George B. Squires, Vice President Sures; "The Church and Labor," report on children in Washington factories.

The session in the afternoon will begin at 2:30 o'clock, with the following program: "Sweatshop report," Margaret Schuyler Lawrence, Secretary Sweatshop Committee, C. A. I. L.; "The Church and Labor," discussion from the floor; address, representative Girls' Friendly Society; "Industrial Organization of Labor," Harriette A. Keyser, Secretary and Organizer of C. A. I. L.; address on above subject, J. H. Brinkman, Secretary C. A. I. L., Washington; discussion from the floor; address, representative Brotherhood of St. Andrew "Church and State," Rev. Walter E. Bentley, Secretary Actors' Church Alliance; address by representative of the dramatic profession; address, Rev. Arthur B. Greenleaf, Secretary Church Social Service.

There will be another meeting this evening at 8 o'clock, at which the following programme has been prepared: Address, Rev. Joseph Reynolds, Vice President C. A. I. L.; "Factory Conditions in Small Towns," Rev. Frank M. Lett, Beloit, Wis.; address, Rev. Richard P. Williams; "Beginnings of C. A. I. L.," Rev. Floyd Tomkins, Philadelphia; "Conciliation and Arbitration," Rev. William H. Harman Van Allen, Elmira, N. Y.; "C. A. I. L. and Trades Union," John P. Peters, Ph. D., New York; "Expansion of C. A. I. L.," Harriette A. Keyser, N. W. York; address, Rev. Alexander Macgregor; address, Rt. Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee; "Factory Conditions Required by Organized Labor," Samuel Gomper, President American Federation of Labor.

The following are the officers of the society: President, Rev. D. F. D. Huntington, Bishop of central New York; vice president, Rev. Joseph Reynolds, Jr., New York; secretary and organizer, Harriette A. Keyser, Church Missions House, New York; treasurer, H. B. Livingston, New York; chairman correspondence committee, Margaret S. Lawrence.

HECHT'S GREATER STORES,

513-515 Seventh Street.

Wrappers worth up to $4 on sale at 98c.

Many of which are so elaborately trimmed that they are really house dresses, the samples of a well-known maker—garments which you cannot duplicate elsewhere for less than $1.50, and most of them for not less than $2.50, $3, and $4, to go for 98c.

We ask you to this most extraordinary offering knowing that you will agree with us when we claim that this is the greatest wrapper sale yet—an offering by which you get the handsomest figured lawns, percales, batistes, and the prettiest of plain lawns—trimmed most elaborately—some with lace, some with braid, some with both lace and braid, some having handsome all-over lace yokes, some trimmed with wide ruffles, and some of them with wide revers. There are black satins in the lot and black and white and blue and white wrappers which are so much wanted. A most noteworthy feature about them is that they all have flounces on the skirts; all have separate waist linings; in fact, they have all the points which make them the very best wrappers to be had—without exception.

And the wonder of it is that we can offer them for so little as 98 cents when they are worth as much as $4.

Clean sweep of the woolen suits and skirts.

Woolen suits and skirts must now give way to the linens, piques, the ducks, and the crases. We shall not be caught in the stock jam at the end of the season, either. Both these reasons impel a clean-sweep sale, and we start it tomorrow—reducing prices to an enormous degree—reserving nothing—including everything, and giving you the privilege of having them "charged" if you so desire.

$5.98 for ladies' $12.50 suits.

Fashionable black cheviot serge suits; jackets of which are lined with serge-silk and are in double-breasted, fly-front and single-breasted effects; new skirts, full in width; both garments thoroughly tailored and which formerly sold for $12.50, to go now for $5.98.

$12.98 for ladies' $25 suits.

In this lot are the handsomest and most fashionable broadcloths, venetians, and the like in black, blue, tan, cass, mer, mode, and red; with jackets in several styles and silk lined; with skirts having the new box pleat backs; which sold up to $25 for $12.98.

Genuine 39c corded Jap. wash silks, 19c.

Again tomorrow we shall let you have the genuine 39c corded Japanese Wash Silks for 19c yard. The offering last week created the biggest sort of a sensation, and it certainly should with the prices of silks of every description far above what they ever cost before. Light, medium, and dark grounds, with heavy corded stripes and checks, in handsome spring shades which are so elegant for children's dresses and ladies' costume suits. Such silks cannot be bought elsewhere for less than 39c.

Purchases "charged" when a buyer desires it, and satisfactory arrangements made as to the payments.

MAY SKIES TO BE BRIGHT

Great Solar Eclipse Due on the 28th Instant.

Much Interest in the Phenomenon. The Presence of Venus, Jupiter, and Saturn Will Make the Heavens Particularly Brilliant—The Importance of Making Observations.

In the course of the month of May the moon will present her phases as follows: She will be in her first quarter on the 6th, full on the 14th, in her last quarter on the 21st, and new on the 28th. On the 8th she will be in conjunction with the sun, and on the 21st in perigee. While on the 1st of the month the sun is just a little more than 15 degrees north of the equator, it will be by the end a little more than 1 degree 30 minutes within its northern limit, the summer solstice traveling during the month an arc of about 7 degrees north declination.

The planet Mercury will be successively in the constellations Pisces, Aries, and Taurus in course of May and will be able to catch a glimpse of this planet on the 14th, in the evening. Venus will be at first in Taurus, but soon enter Gemini. Being at a considerable elongation from the sun, Venus will not set before 7 o'clock in the evening. Even persons that are not in the habit of gazing at the stars will have their attention aroused by this magnificent planet, which will appear in the evening sky.

Jupiter is in Sagittarius, almost on the boundary line that separates that constellation from Scorpio. This great planet rises about 7:30 o'clock in the evening, and so it happens that the two most brilliant planets can be seen together for nearly three hours in the evening. Venus approaching the western horizon and Jupiter rising higher and higher above the eastern, two objects of nearly the same dazzling brightness. Jupiter will remain in the sky during the whole night and will be seen in the morning.

The session in the afternoon will begin at 2:30 o'clock, with the following program: "Sweatshop report," Margaret Schuyler Lawrence, Secretary Sweatshop Committee, C. A. I. L.; "The Church and Labor," discussion from the floor; address, representative Girls' Friendly Society; "Industrial Organization of Labor," Harriette A. Keyser, Secretary and Organizer of C. A. I. L.; address on above subject, J. H. Brinkman, Secretary C. A. I. L., Washington; discussion from the floor; address, representative Brotherhood of St. Andrew "Church and State," Rev. Walter E. Bentley, Secretary Actors' Church Alliance; address by representative of the dramatic profession; address, Rev. Arthur B. Greenleaf, Secretary Church Social Service.

There will be another meeting this evening at 8 o'clock, at which the following programme has been prepared: Address, Rev. Joseph Reynolds, Vice President C. A. I.
